5 Look at the infographic. Read and complete the sentences.

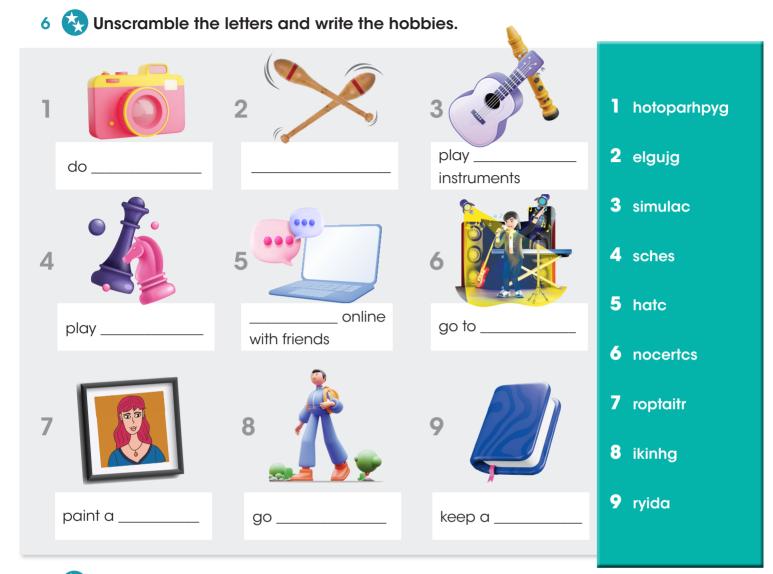

What makes someone smart?
Why are some people good with numbers while others are good with words? It's because there are different kinds of 'smart' and every person has got a unique mix of abilities! Look at the infographic to learn about some of the different kinds of 'smart'.

- 1 Mark has always been good at working with clay and making sculptures. His teacher says that his work is very creative and imaginative. He is ______ smart.
- 2 Daniel has been playing the guitar for two years. He can't imagine life without playing in his band. He is ______ smart.
- 3 Jane has already broken two school records. Her coach says she may even take part in the Olympic Games one day. She is ______ smart.
- 4 Susan has always worked hard to achieve her goals. She is also keen on reading books about feelings and talking about her emotions. She is ______ smart.

- 5 Pat loves camping with her father. They both enjoy learning about plants and animals. She is ______ smart.
- 6 John was president of the Chess Club last year, and he has joined the Maths Club this year. He loves solving problems. He is smart.
- 7 Victor has just started his own blog. He hasn't written many stories yet, but the comments so far are amazing. He also writes for the school newspaper. He's ______ smart.
- 8 Diane has always been popular at school. She is easy-going and friendly. She's also good at doing group projects and organising events. She is ______ smart.

• What kind of 'smart' are you?
